☕ COFFEE STOP

Pluk Amsterdam
A favourite local café with excellent coffee, fresh pastries and a relaxed atmosphere.

★ HIDDEN GEM

Bridge at Reestraat × Keizersgracht
One of the prettiest corners of the Nine Streets and a wonderful place to wander before dinner.

📷 BEST PHOTO SPOT

Bridge at Reestraat × Keizersgracht
Classic Amsterdam canal view and one of the most photographed spots in the late afternoon.

PRACTICAL TIPS

- Most places accept card payments.
- Tipping is appreciated but not required (round up or 5–10%).
- Trams, bikes and walking are the best ways to get around.
- Stay hydrated! Weather can change quickly – walking shoes.
- Keep an eye on bikes – they have right of way!

What you'll discover along the way

1

Around the Pulitzer • WESTERN CANAL BELT
Wander through the Pulitzer's interconnected canal houses and hidden courtyards before stepping out onto Prinsengracht. Notice the hooks on the tops of the canal houses, once used to hoist furniture through the windows.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR
House hooks above the gables.

2

Reestraat & Keizersgracht • NINE STREETS
This beautiful intersection offers classic canal views, local cafés and boutique stores. Look for the Reestraat bridge, one of the most photographed spots in Amsterdam, especially in the late afternoon.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR
Bicycles on the bridge and reflections in the canal.

3

The Nine Streets (De Negen Straatjes) • NINE STREETS
Originally built during Amsterdam's Golden Age, these nine streets are now filled with independent boutiques, vintage shops, artisan chocolatiers and hidden courtyards. Don't rush – some of the best places are found when you simply wander.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR
Hidden courtyards and tiny specialty shops.

Reestraat
Cafés and canal views.

Hartenstraat
Independent boutiques.

Berenstraat
Chocolatiers and specialty shops.

Keizersgracht
Classic canal bridge views.

Wolvenstraat
Galleries and restaurants.

DON'T MISS WHILE EXPLORING

4

Wolvenstraat & Jordaan • JORDAAN EDGE
As you make your way toward dinner, you'll pass into the edge of the Jordaan, one of Amsterdam's most loved neighbourhoods, known for tiny cafés, canal houses and quiet side streets.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR
Flower boxes on canal houses.

5

Back at the Pulitzer • WESTERN CANAL BELT
Before cocktails, spend a few minutes exploring the hotel's peaceful internal gardens and passageways – they're one of the Pulitzer's best-kept secrets.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR
The hotel's hidden gardens and quiet courtyard corners.

THINGS YOU'LL NOTICE TODAY

Thousands of bicycles – more bikes than people!

Leaning canal houses with gable hooks.

Flower-filled window boxes brighten the city.

Dutch cheese shops with Gouda and local favourites.

Canal boats gliding gracefully past the bridges.

Traditional brown cafés with a cosy, welcoming feel.

TODAY'S WALK
Approximately 2.4 km between planned stops, plus plenty of wandering through the Nine Streets.
